Subject: payment of your child benefit to an account

Madam, Dear Sir

Why pay your child benefit into your bank account?

Payment of your child benefit into a financial account is easy, safe and free of charge.

Who must fill in the form?

The form must be filled in by the beneficiary (usually the mother).

What type of account?

The child benefit is only paid into a current account in your name or into a joint current account in your name and the name of your spouse or partner for example.

The payment of the child benefit into a savings, investment or term account or into the account of someone else for which you have the power of attorney is not permitted.

The child benefit fund will check the details that you provide on the attached form with your bank. If your bank informs us that the stated financial account is not a current account or that you are not the (co-)holder of this account, the child allowance fund will ask you to provide a different account number.

If you do not provide an account number, the child benefit will be paid by circular cheque.

For additional information, you can reach us on , on weekday mornings, preferably between 9.00 am and 12.00 am, or fix an appointment.

Yours faithfully.
